

PHILLIP DANIELS

DEFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL/ ASSISTANT DEFENSIVE LINE

3RD YEAR IN NFL / 2ND IN PHILADELPHIA

COLLEGE: GEORGIA

A 15-season NFL veteran, Phillip Daniels joined the Eagles coaching staff during the 2016 offseason as the team's defensive quality control/assistant defensive line coach. Daniels most recently served as the director of player development for the Washington Redskins in 2012.

Originally a fourth-round selection by the Seattle Seahawks in the 1996 NFL Draft, Daniels played four seasons with the Seahawks (1996-99), four seasons with the Chicago Bears (2000-03) and seven seasons with the Redskins (2004-10). In 201 career games (167 starts), Daniels totaled 512 tackles (390 solo), 62 sacks, one interception, 51 passes defensed, 15 forced fumbles and 12 fumble recoveries.

During his playing tenure in Washington, Daniels was a part of four defenses that ranked in the top 10 in the NFL in yards allowed per game (2004, 2005, 2007 and 2009).

He arrived in Washington after a four-year stint in Chicago, where he started all 59 games in which he appeared, while collaring 23 sacks and 188 tackles.

Daniels began his career in Seattle, appearing in 60 games with 41 starts in four seasons with the Seahawks. Over that span, Daniels notched 21.5 sacks.

A native of Donalsonville, GA, Daniels played college football at the University of Georgia from 1992-95 and finished his college career with 244 tackles, 18 tackles for loss and 12 sacks. He started at three different positions for the Bulldogs, including defensive end, defensive tackle and linebacker, while serving as a team captain as a senior.

Daniels and his wife, Leslie, have four children: DaVaris, DaKendrick, Damara and DaKiya. DaVaris played wide receiver at Notre Dame from 2011-14.
