Press Taylor joined the Eagles as an offensive quality control coach during the 2013 offseason and took on the added responsibility of assistant quarterbacks coach in 2016. Prior to arriving in Philadelphia, Taylor spent two seasons as a graduate assistant/quarterbacks coach with the University of Tulsa.

Taylor worked with rookie QB Carson Wentz in his first season as assistant quarterbacks coach (2016), as the No. 2-overall pick set a team and all-time NFL rookie record with 379 completions. Wentz also posted franchise rookie records in pass attempts, passing yards, passing touchdowns and completion percentage. Wentz's 3,782 passing yards marked the fourth-highest total in single-season team history and NFL rookie history.

Taylor was an integral part of an Eagles offense in 2015 that saw QB Sam Bradford set individual team records in completions (346) and completion percentage (65.0%), while finishing fourth in team history with a career-high 3,725 passing yards. WR Jordan Matthews and TE Zach Ertz developed into primary targets for Bradford as both pass-catchers went on to enjoy breakout seasons. Matthews led the team in receptions (85), receiving yards (997) and touchdowns (eight), while finishing the season with the 10th-most receptions (152) in NFL history by a player in the first two seasons of his career. Ertz rounded out his third season in Philadelphia with career highs in receptions (75) and receiving yards (853) and T Jason Peters was selected to his third-consecutive (eighth overall) trip to the Pro Bowl.

With Taylor's assistance in 2014, the Eagles set franchise records in points (474), touchdowns (54), completions (390), gross passing yards (4,581) and first downs (356). The Eagles also saw five players on the offensive side of the ball reach the Pro Bowl: C Jason Kelce, WR Jeremy Maclin, RB LeSean McCoy, G Evan Mathis and Peters.

In his first season in Philadelphia, Taylor was part of an offense that helped set franchise records in points (442 - broken in 2014), total net yards (6,676), touchdowns (53 - broken in 2014), passing yards (4,406 - broken in 2014) and fewest turnovers (19).
