EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Howie Roseman, executive vice president of football operations, is in his 19th season with the Philadelphia Eagles. Roseman is an influential voice within the organization and provides valuable perspective pertaining to both football and business decisions that help shape the franchise.

Roseman was named 2017 Executive of the Year by the Pro Football Writers of America for his integral role in constructing the team's Super Bowl LII-winning roster. In addition, Roseman was voted the 2017 Sporting News NFL Executive Of The Year by league executives. During the 2017 offseason, Roseman and the Eagles front office utilized free agency to add key veterans such as LeGarrette Blount, Nick Foles, Alshon Jeffery, Chris Long, Patrick Robinson and Torrey Smith, while also executing trades for veteran defenders Ronald Darby and Tim Jernigan. The team later traded for running back Jay Ajayi just before the NFL trade deadline in October. Additionally, Roseman infused the roster with talent and youth during April's NFL Draft, which was held in Philadelphia for the first time since 1961. Roseman's moves paid dividends when the Eagles captured the first Super Bowl title in franchise history with a 41-33 victory over the New England Patriots.

Prior to being promoted to his current role, Roseman served as the team's general manager from 2010-14. At the time of his 2010 promotion to general manager, Roseman was just 34 years old and became the youngest NFL executive to be named to the post in 30 years. In his first year as general manager, he oversaw a major overhaul of the roster, making it one of the youngest in the NFL. The revamped Eagles squad earned an NFC East division crown in 2010 and then again in 2013. In 2014, the Eagles won ten games with an NFC-high nine Pro Bowl players.

Since that time, Roseman has overseen the reshaping of a roster that included two separate trades that allowed the Eagles to move up in the first round of the 2016 NFL draft to select North Dakota State QB Carson Wentz. Eight days prior to the start of the 2016 regular season, Roseman executed another trade that sent QB Sam Bradford to the Minnesota Vikings in exchange for a 2017 first-round pick, which the Eagles used to select Tennessee's Derek Barnett, and a 2018 fourth-round pick. Prior to the 2016 and 2017 season, Roseman continued to solidify the team's core by retaining key veterans while adding to the team through free agency and the draft.

Since hiring Roseman in 2000, the Eagles have earned 11 playoff berths, eight division titles, six NFC Championship appearances, two NFC Championship crowns and trips to Super Bowl XXXIX and Super Bowl LII.

In addition to overseeing the team's roster moves, Roseman is also responsible for establishing the organization's scouting and personnel department, as well as overseeing the executives who specialize in analytics, sports science, player engagement and NFL compliance.

After relentlessly pursuing jobs in NFL front offices, Roseman finally got his foot in the door as an intern with the Eagles when the team was headquartered at Veterans Stadium.

Roseman was elevated to director of football administration in
