ASSISTANT HEAD COACH/RUNNING BACKS

9TH YEAR IN NFL · 9TH IN PHILADELPHIA
COLLEGE: SOUTH CAROLINA

Duce Staley was promoted to assistant head coach during the 2018 offseason and will continue working as the Eagles running backs coach, a position that he has held since 2013.

One of the most productive and toughest players to ever suit up in an Eagles uniform, Duce Staley originally joined the Eagles coaching staff as a coaching intern in 2010, worked as a special teams quality control coach for two seasons (2011-12) and has served as the team's running backs coach since 2013.

Philadelphia ranks fifth in the NFL in rushing offense (122.9 yards per game) during Staley's tenure as the Eagles running backs coach.

The Eagles ground game helped propel the team to its first Super Bowl title in 2017, as Philadelphia owned one of the most powerful rushing attacks in the NFL, ranking third overall in rushing offense (132.2 yards per game) and fourth in rushing average (4.47 yards per attempt). LeGarrette Blount led the Eagles with 766 rushing yards, which are the third-most ever by an Eagles running back age 30-or-older. Jay Ajayi, who was acquired in a trade with Miami in Week 9, ranked second among NFL running backs in rushing average (5.83) over the last eight games of the regular season (min. 70 attempts). Undrafted rookie Corey Clement led Philadelphia with four rushing touchdowns and added two receiving touchdowns, marking the most offensive touchdowns (six) by an Eagles rookie running back since 1953.

In 2015, Staley worked with two first-time Eagles running backs in DeMarco Murray and Ryan Mathews, as the duo became the first pair of Eagles backs with six-or-more rushing scores in a season since 2003. Additionally, Mathews ranked fourth in the NFL in yards per carry (5.08).

Under Staley's direction in 2014, RB LeSean McCoy finished third in the league in rushing with 1,319 yards and second in rushing attempts with 312, en route to his second consecutive Pro Bowl berth. In Week 14, McCoy also broke Wilbert Montgomery's 30-year-old franchise rushing record of 6,538 yards. RB Darren Sproles doubled his previous career high in rushing touchdowns with six on the year, while RB Chris Polk added four touchdowns on only 46 carries.

In his first season coaching the team's running backs in 2013, Staley was part of an offense that helped set franchise records in points (442 - broken in 2014), total net yards (6,676), touchdowns (53 - broken in 2014), passing yards (4,406 - broken in 2014) and fewest turnovers (19). With assistance from Staley, McCoy earned first-team All-Pro and Pro Bowl honors for the second time in his career after leading the NFL in rushing yards (1,607) and scrimmage yards (2,146), while setting Eagles single-season records in both categories. In addition, McCoy became the first Eagle since Steve Van Buren in 1947 to lead the league in both rushing and yards from scrimmage.
