

ANDREW BERRY

VICE PRESIDENT OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

11TH YEAR IN NFL • 1ST IN PHILADELPHIA COLLEGE: HARVARD

Andrew Berry was hired by the Eagles as vice president of football operations during the 2019 offseason and came to Philadelphia from the Cleveland Browns where he served as the vice president of player personnel from 2016-18.

While in Cleveland, Berry led all talent evaluation efforts for the Browns, including college prospects and professional players.

Prior to his time with the Browns, Berry worked for the Indianapolis Colts for seven years (2009-15). During his tenure in Indianapolis, the Colts won four AFC South titles, made five postseason appearances and advanced to Super Bowl XLIV. He was originally hired by Indianapolis as a scouting assistant and was promoted to pro scout in 2011. One year later, he was elevated to pro scouting coordinator and served in that role for his final four seasons with the club. In that role, Berry managed the Colts' free agency approach, scouted NFL opponents and evaluated pro players. He also assisted with college scouting, prepared for the NFL Draft and participated in contract negotiations during free agency.

Berry graduated from Harvard University cum laude with a bachelor's degree in economics and a master's degree in computer science. He also played football for the Crimson, where he started all four years at cornerback and earned both All-Ivy League and All-America honors. Berry finished his college career with 125 tackles and five interceptions.

While in college, Berry was named one of five finalists for the John Wooden Citizenship Cup, which is awarded to the nation's highest-achieving student-athlete who best displays character, teamwork and citizenship. He was also a finalist for the Draddy Trophy as the national scholar-athlete of the year and was named the 2009 Football Championship Subdivision Athletic Director Association Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

BERRY'S CAREER TIMELINE

2009-10	Indianapolis Colts	Scouting Assistant
2011	Indianapolis Colts	Pro Scout
2012-15	Indianapolis Colts	Pro Scouting Coordinator
2016-18	Cleveland Browns	Vice President of Player Personnel
2019-	Philadelphia Eagles	Vice President of Football Operations