

ANDREW BREINER

PASS GAME ANALYST

NFL Experience: 1st season (1st with Eagles)

College: Lock Haven Hometown: Hummelstown, PA

Andrew Breiner joined the Eagles' coaching staff as a pass game analyst during the 2020 offseason after spending the previous two seasons (2018-19) as Mississippi State's passing game coordinator and quarterbacks coach.

In Breiner's first season at MSU, the Bulldogs passed for 2,259 yards and 22 touchdowns and were led by the SEC's all-time leading rusher at quarterback, Nick Fitzgerald. Fitzgerald, one of MSU's most decorated players in school history and owner of 13 school records, completed 145-of-281 passes for 16 touchdowns with nine interceptions as a senior in 2018. He was responsible for 29 touchdowns (13 rushing, 16 passing) and led all FBS quarterbacks in 100-yard rushing games (7).

Prior to joining the Mississippi State staff, Breiner was the head coach at Fordham University from 2016-17, where he compiled a 12-10 record, including an 8-3 mark in his first year. The eight victories marked the most wins by a first-year head coach in the school's modern era. Under Breiner's leadership, the 2016 Rams ranked fourth in the FCS in both total offense (498.2 ypg) and scoring offense (40.1 ppg).

Breiner served as Fordham's offensive coordinator from 2012-15. During this span, Fordham ranked in the Top 10 of the FCS in nearly every category. In 2015, the Rams led the Patriot League and were ninth nationally in scoring (36.8 ppg). They led the league and were second in the FCS in passing efficiency (168.30). RB Chase Edmonds and OL Garrick Mayweather earned All-America honors in 2015, while Edmonds was also named the 2015 Patriot League Offensive Player of the Year.

In 2014, Breiner's offense set new single-season school records in rushing yards (2,353), points (569) and rushing touchdowns (31), while ranking fourth nationally in passing offense (326.1), fifth in scoring offense (40.6), third in team passing efficiency (156.2), seventh in total offense (494.1), and ninth in first downs (331). Fordham's 2014 offense saw seven players earn All-America honors and 10 receive All-Patriot League accolades.

In 2013, Fordham QB Mike Nebrich was named the 2013 Patriot League Offensive Player of the Year after setting Fordham single-season records in completions (353), passing yards (4,380) and passing touchdowns (35). The Rams ranked first in the nation in pass completion percentage (.735) and total offense (376.4 ypg), and second in passing efficiency (171.3).

During Breiner's first season as offensive coordinator at Fordham in 2012, the Rams offense ranked second in the Patriot League in scoring offense (31.2 ppg), passing offense (279.6 ypg) and total offense (435.7 ypg). Rams QB Ryan Higgins threw for 2,940 yards, the fourth-best single season for a Fordham QB in school history.

While at Connecticut, Breiner worked with the offensive staff in all phases of research and development, coaching and game planning as well as working individually with the quarterbacks and wide receivers in 2009 and 2010. He worked with the quarterbacks and running backs in 2011 and also had special teams responsibilities with the kickoff and kickoff return teams. He was a part of a staff that helped the Huskies to the 2010 Big East Championship and an appearance in the 2011 Tostitos Fiesta Bowl.
